DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-23 are pending.

REQUIREMENT FOR UNITY OF INVENTION

As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(a), a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). Where a group of inventions is claimed in a national stage application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

The determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim. See 37 CFR 1.475(e).

When Claims Are Directed to Multiple Categories of Inventions:

As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(b), a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories:

- (1) A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or
- (2) A product and process of use of said product; or
- (3) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or
- (4) A process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or
- (5) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

Otherwise, unity of invention might not be present. See 37 CFR 1.475(c).

The allowed combinations do not include multiple products, multiple methods of using said products, and a method of making a product as claimed in the instant application, see MPEP§ 1875.

Species Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because the allowed combinations do not include multiple products, multiple methods of using said products, and a method of making a product as claimed in the instant application, see MPEP§ 1850.

Art Unit: 1644

The species are as follows:

Claims 2 and 3 are drawn to specifically named antigen such as HLA type I, HLA type II, allogeneic antigen, heteroantigen, viral antigen or bacterial and one must be selected. Each of the antigens has a distinct structure and thus the antigens lack the same special technical feature.

Claims 6, 8, 9, 18, 19, 20 and 21 are drawn to specifically named immunosuppressive agent alone or in combination. Each of the immunosuppressive agents has a distinct structure and function and thus the agents lack the same special technical feature.

Claim 10-11, 22 and 23 are drawn to specifically named cytokines which can either stimulate or inhibit cell proliferation or activation. Each of the cytokines has a distinct structure and function and thus the cytokines lack the same special technical feature.

Claims 12, 16 and 17 is drawn to specifically named cytokine neutralizing antibody against the specific cytokine recited in claims 10-11, 22 and 23. Each of the antibodies has different binding specificity, different CDRs and neutralize the specific cytokine. Thus the neutralizing antibodies lack the same special technical feature.

Applicants are further required to elect a species of (A) antigen, (B) a specific immunosuppressive agent or a specific combination of immunosuppressive agents, (C) a specific cytokine and (D) a specific neutralizing antibody against said cytokine listed above.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1644

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.
